

Seton Fire Protection Services FACT SHEET

November, 2024

In partnership for the community

Fire protection services in the Seton fire protection service area are authorized by the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District Seton Portage/ Shalalth Fire Protection Service Establishing Bylaw No. 480, 1992.

Since September, 2019 the service has been provided by Tsal'alh. The SLRD continues to work toward a long-term agreement with Tsal'alh to ensure continuity of the service in the best way for the community.

The SLRD is committed to aligning with provincial regulatory standards and working with communities to support rural fire department efforts to align with regulations, including minimum training standards.

Tsal'alh provides turn-key exterior structural firefighting services; working with Tsal'alh maintains the most optimal fire underwriter survey (FUS) grading, ensuring homeowners receive the most affordable insurance rates.

While working toward a long-term services agreement, the SLRD also plans to enter into a lease agreement with Tsal'alh for the Seton firehall, where their equipment will be housed.

The SLRD-owned Seton firehall is a community resource. It is used by BC Ambulance Service via lease with the SLRD and BC Emergency Health Services, and will continue to be an emergency response hub for the community

Since September, 2019, fire protection services for the Seton fire protection service area have been provided through a series of short-term agreements between the Squamish-Lillooet Regional District and Tsal'alh.

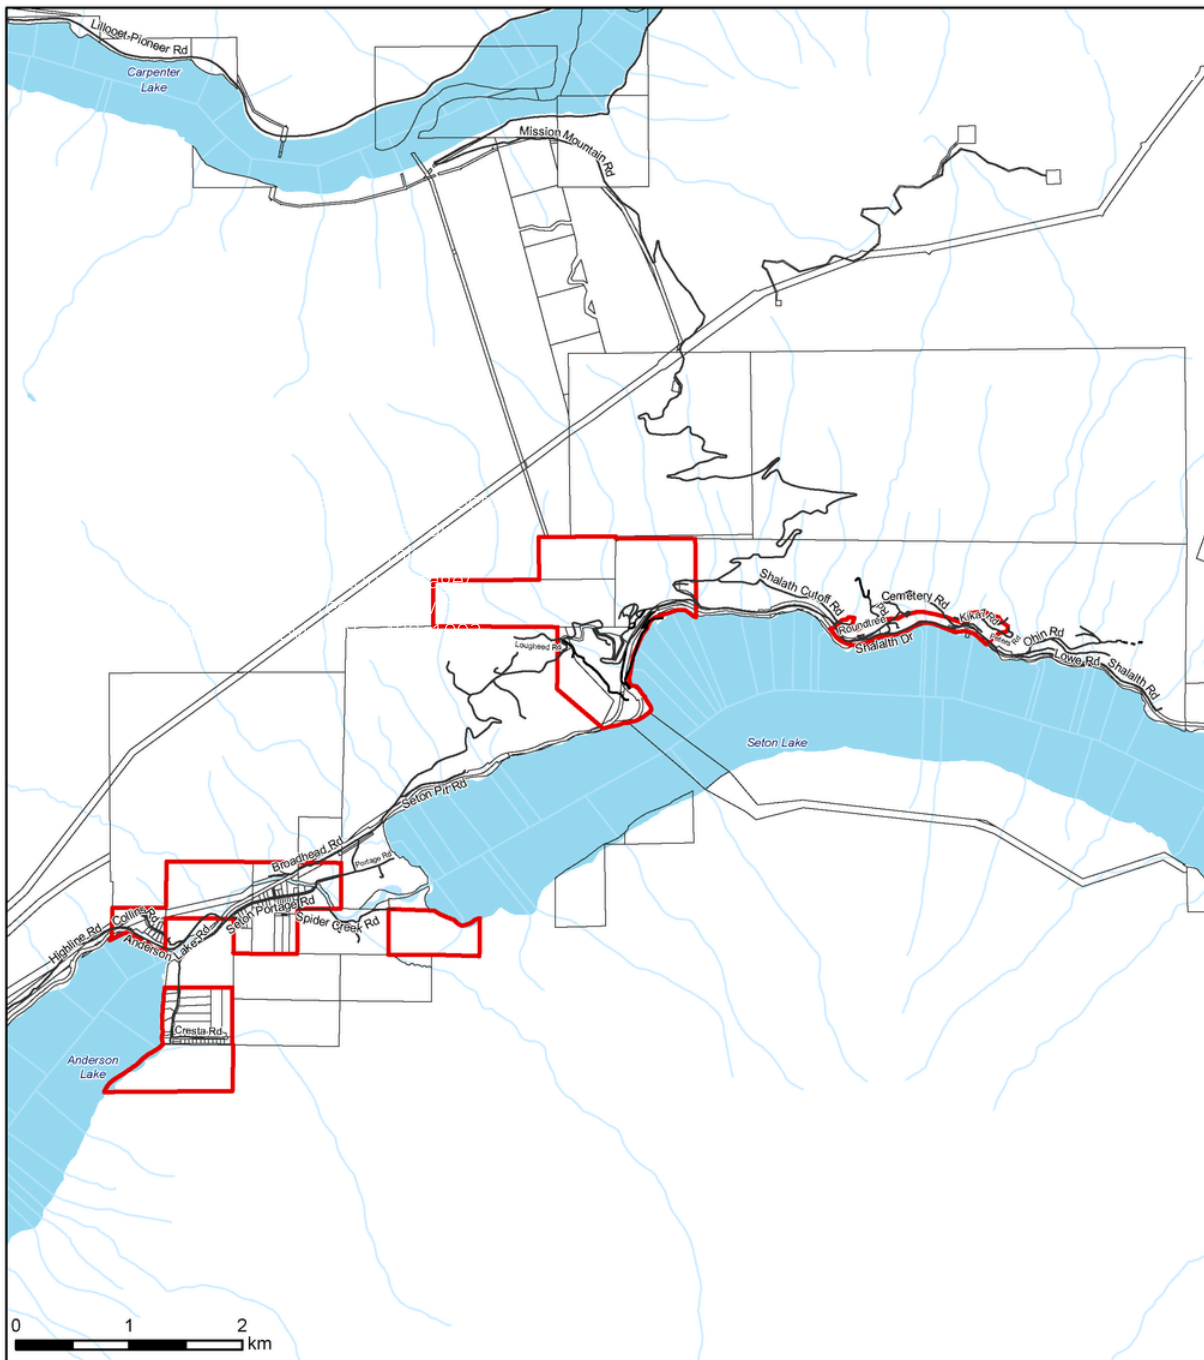

These successive short-term agreements have ensured that the community continues to receive fire protection service, without disruption, and with the most favourable insurance options for homeowners.

The SLRD and Tsal'alh continue to work toward finalizing a long-term fire protection services agreement for the community, as well as a lease agreement for the SLRD-owned Seton firehall, a valuable community resource.

A long-term agreement with Tsal'alh is the best option for ensuring continuity in service and protection for the community.

The SLRD is grateful to all partners in this project.
